

We have a Remarkable Stain Remover ready to market through the Ad Specialty Industry...

StainRx® - Stain Remover Wipe

It eliminates red wine stains and also removes stains from tomato sauce, coffee and tea, salad dressing, grass, lipstick and more. It removes all of those pesky stains that happen at the most inopportune times!

Perfect for the person on the go, whether enjoying personal travel or engaged in high powered business dinners.

It's impossible to predict when a spill, splash or splat will occur!

Used commercially for over 50 years by doctors, bio-labs and healthcare companies to eliminate blood and other difficult stains,

StainRx®

(aka Erado-Sol) was introduced to the consumer retail market several years ago.

StainRx® is a sought after item among insiders in the wine and gourmet world, having been featured in publications such as Wine Spectator and Food and Wine magazine. In addition, a University of California, Davis scientific study found StainRx® outperformed all other commercially available wine stain removers. It was also member tested and recommended by Cooking Club of America, receiving their Seal of Approval.

Now after significant retail success, StainRx® is available exclusively to the Ad Specialty/Imprint/Promotional Industry.

Special customized packaging solutions have been created for StainRx®; for use as on-pack promotions and complimentary thank you gifts/giveaways. However, the promotional opportunities are limitless and we welcome the challenge to create special packaging for your clients.

Made in the USA, StainRx® has a 100% biodegradable surfactant and is pH neutral and will not adversely affect colorfast washable fabrics. It has no peroxide, chlorine bleach or phosphates. StainRx® may also be used on all stainless steel surfaces, plastic and glassware.
